

FRIDAY EVENING, OCT. 12, 1906.

FEARING the exposure of the method of curing hams, in which process it is alleged that the beef trust, through subsidiary concerns, use boric acid in violation of the law, the four representatives of Armour & Co., of Chicago, who were arrested in Philadelphia on October 6 upon information based upon investigation of an agent of Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren, yesterday waived a hearing and each was held under $600 bail for court. The agent had bought hams from several of the depots of Armour & Co., and upon analysis each was found to contain a certain percentage of boric acid. Based upon this information, warrants were issued for four of the Armour men. The proceedings were very brief. The attorney representing the defendants informed the magistrate that his clients would waive a hearing and enter bail for court. Without further ado bail for the combined amount of $3,000 was entered.

COLORED republicans, disgruntled at the formation of a lily white party, repudiating nominees for Congress who have Chairman Slem's endorsement, will, they declare, make a fight against Messrs. Hanson in the Third, Simmons in the Fifth and Slem in the Ninth districts. But they will do no such thing. It matters not how badly they are treated by the white republicans, they will vote the republican ticket on election day, and their "bosses" know it.

THE grounds on which a continuance was asked this morning in the Corporation Court in the case of the negro who had killed another in this city, recently, might have been very reasonable under some circumstances, but the community will uphold the court in having overruled the motion. The law's delay is provisional and the people demand prompt trials in criminal cases. Delays in such cases have in a number of instances led to serious troubles.

WHEN THE President directed that one judge at every polling place in Arizona should be an advocate of joint statehood some doubt was expressed whether the territory contained enough advocates of merger with New Mexico to go around. This apprehension is confirmed by letters from Arizona which say that not enough supporters of the President's preposterous policy can be found to watch the polls.

It is a pleasure to read in the Mobile Register that the late storm which devastated that city did not work such ruin among the beautiful live oaks that adorn its streets and parks as had been at first reported. A few trees were overturned and all were wind-whipped and partly deprived of their foliage; but the glory remains. A stranger visiting the city would hardly note the ravage.

THE greatest corn crop in the history of the country is indicated in the report of the crop reporting board of the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Agriculture, made public yesterday. The crop is now safe, and it will be about 2,780,000,000 bushels. This should be a good democratic year.

BOOKER T. WASHINGTON, in a speech in New York yesterday, advised northern negroes and whites against rash utterances, declaring that many southern whites were the best friends of the negro. This is all true, but some northern people would not believe it even if told by an angel.

From Washington.

Whether there will be a meeting at the Benning track this fall is problematical. District Attorney Baker insists that he will call the Davis case to trial on November 5th and sufficient time should be had to allow a decision on the question whether betting on horses under the law is legal in the District.

Mrs. Jennie May will not be arraigned in Criminal Court today to answer the charge of assault with intent to kill Lucien Owen. Mrs. May is so prostrated by the death of Owen that she is not physically able to appear. The District Attorney's office will not insist on her appearance until her condition improves.

President O'Connell of the International Association of Machinists received word this afternoon that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad had granted an increase to its machinists of from three to six cents per hour per man, thus raising the daily wage scale approximately from $3.40 to $4. The Northern Pacific, the Great Northern and the Wisconsin Central had already granted the increase.

Conferences are proceeding between the Southern Railway and the International Association of Machinists, looking to termination of the strike, under which 1,000 union men on the roads are now out. It is predicted that a compromise will be reached within the next 48 hours.

New York. He told the President that in order to win the State the republicans must fight up to the day of election.

Major John M. Carson, Chief of the Bureau of Manufactures, in an official publication today says: "A delegation of German manufacturers who came to this country recently to ask relief from what they considered restrictive legislation have not, apparently, from remarks of some members of the delegation, received any great satisfaction. They seem to think that special favors might be given to German manufacturers in administering the customs laws, being unaware that the United States treats all nations alike. Their threats for a tariff war on the part of Germany do not influence American officials in their enforcement of the law."

Just twelve days after the president issued his order for the sending of an army of occupation to Cuba the last of the expedition embarked at Newport News, Va., and sailed for Havana yesterday. Without one hitch 5,650 troops were transported from the ports in the far south, the north, west and north, west to Newport News, Va., and as fast as they arrived there were put aboard chartered vessels and sent to Cuba.

THE COLD WAVE.

The cold wave extends over a large area. Six inches of snow fell in Pennsylvania, yesterday, the storm raging two hours. Killing frost appeared in Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, the Carolinas, Texas and Tennessee. It has been snowing in Buffalo, N. Y., for over 24 hours. Vessels on the Great Lakes, which have been fighting snow and high gales for two days, arrived coated with ice. Flurries of snow visited Snow Hill, Md. Sleet in New York State carried down wires, cutting off cities from the rest of the world.

Winchester and the Shenandoah Valley are in the grasp of a severe cold wave, the temperature dropping rapidly yesterday to within two degrees of the freezing point. There was a slight fall of snow at Winchester yesterday evening, of brief duration. A high wind that prevailed there Wednesday night died down and a killing frost was looked for last night.

Yesterday was the coldest of the fall in Norfolk and vicinity. The thermometer dropped to four degrees above freezing at 5 a. m. and at 8 a. m. it was only two degrees warmer. Coal and wood dealers cannot supply the demand for hurried fuel.

A heavy frost formed at Lynchburg yesterday morning, killing vegetation and doing heavy damage in truck patches, all of them being killed out. The frost was 11 days ahead of last year.

Disinherited for Marrying Gentle.

Disinherited by his family because he married a gentle, Dr. Barney J. Dreyfuss, of the faculty of Cornell University Medical College, is happy, nevertheless. Cards announcing the marriage were sent out yesterday, but Dr. Dreyfuss expects no response from his wealthy relatives in Paducah, Ky., for he was informed sometime ago that if he married a woman not of his own faith he would be disinherited.

Dr. Dreyfuss's wife was Miss Claire Burke. She was a trained nurse, and their romance began in a hospital. It extended over a period of four years, during which time the doctor's family made all sorts of efforts to forestall the marriage.

Mrs. Dreyfuss is the daughter of the late Major John Burke, internal revenue collector for the Southern district of Indiana. She is a Roman Catholic.

Four years ago she went to the Louisville Hospital, in Louisville, Ky., as a trained nurse. Dr. Dreyfuss was rounding out his medical education there on the hospital staff. It was a case of love at first sight, but the doctor's parents objected strenuously to his marrying a Christian. Two years ago the doctor entered Cornell Medical College and a few months ago again tried to secure his parents' consent to his marriage to Miss Burke. He was unsuccessful, however, and the marriage was set for November 8. He became ill, however, and the ceremony was postponed. The doctor has recovered and returned to his duties.

Daughters Testify Against Mother.

The spectacle of two pretty girls weeping as they told of their mother's actions was presented in the Supreme Court, Brooklyn, yesterday when Rev. John Frank Von Vasselcar, of Williamsburg, sought a divorce from Mrs. Helena Von Vasselcar, of Sheboygan, Wis. Justice Magdoff granted an interlocutory decree. The girls were Cecelia Von Vasselcar, 20, and her sister Mercy, 16, who live with Miss Burke.

In contrast to the attitude of the daughters was the loyalty to his mother of Edward Von Vasselcar, 21 years old, who testified before a special commission of the Supreme Court that all the allegations were false, and that, although he lived in the house at the time of the alleged occurrences, he never saw any of them. The young man is in Rheboyan with his mother, who put in no defense and was not represented in court.

Miss Block testified that she had been a boarder at the parsonage, and saw other men kiss the clergyman's wife in the parlor. Cecelia, the eldest, was the first of the sisters to take the stand. Her voice was almost a whisper as she said in reply to a question: "Yes, I saw many men calling on my mother when my father was away from the house."

Virginia Medical Men.

The Medical Society of Virginia in session at Charlottesville last night elected the following officers: President, Dr. Paul Brandon Barringer, University of Virginia; vice presidents, Dr. H. Brown Bagby, Walkerton; Frank Frederick Hancock, Norfolk; Charles Frederick Rinker, Upperville; recording secretary, Landon B. Edwards, Richmond; corresponding secretary, John F. Winn, Richmond; treasurer, R. M. Slaughter, Theological Seminary; chairman executive committee, Paulus A. Irving, Richmond; chairman committee on nomination of applicants for fellowship, William D. Turner, Shobabay. The subject for general discussion during the morning hour consisted of a symposium on preventive medicine.

New York Stock Market.

New York, Oct. 12.—The market all through the first hour was feverish and irregular. There was a strong opening bid up by the highest range reached in many days. Just when the entire market seemed strong large blocks of Union Pacific were sold causing a sharp break. After the rush to sell was over there was quiet, heavy buying of a number of stocks that caused a firm buoy again.

News of the Day.

The provisional government of Cuba announced yesterday that it would not interfere with the status of the Isle of Pines.

The annual meeting of the American Board of Foreign Missions yesterday decided to operate with the United Brethren and Methodist Protestants.

It is learned that there is trouble in St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Baltimore over low church tendencies of the new rector, Dr. O. B. Kinsolving, formerly of Brooklyn.

Counsel for the assignees of the firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co. says the best detectives in the world have been put on the tracks of Manuel Silveira, the Havana agent.

The third of the series of baseball games in Chicago was won yesterday by the Americans 3 to 0. Denver and Spokane offered thousands of dollars guarantee for the deciding game if one should prove necessary.

That Dr. Frank Brouwer intended to seek a divorce from his wife and that the symptoms of her last illness resembled strychnine poisoning were among the statements made in his trial for murder, in Toms River, N. J., yesterday.

For the first time since New Orleans was founded, 188 years ago, a modern sanitary and underground sewerage system was put into operation last night. The pipes connected are part of a $24,000,000 sewerage, drainage and water system, building of which began eight years ago.

Cordial support was given yesterday by the National Wholesale Druggists' Association in session in Washington to the Pure Food and Drug Law recently enacted by Congress. It was determined to aid the government authorities in every proper way to carry the law into effect.

An accident which will probably deprive Miss Mary Lewis, a Uica, N. Y., telephone operator, of her sight occurred Wednesday while the young woman was seated at the switchboard in the telephone exchange. She received a severe electric shock, which rendered her unconscious for a time and left her totally blind.

Standing helpless with her foot caught in a cattle guard at the Indian Hill crossing near La Crosse, Wis., seven-year-old Mamie Hunt on Wednesday watched the onrushing freight train which killed her; while Dagna Senatad, her six-year-old companion, vainly tried to signal the engineer. Sitting upon a brake wheel on top of the train was John Hunt, the girl's father, a brakeman, unconscious that his child was being ground to death beneath the wheels. The girls were returning from school when the Hunt child's foot became caught. Dagna Senatad ran to meet the train, waving her arms and screaming, but the engineer did not see her.

Virginia News.

R. M. T. Hunter, treasurer of Pulaski county, died yesterday. Mr. Hunter had served as treasurer for three years past.

Major Moses M. Green, of Warrenton, while attending the fair in Richmond yesterday, lost his pocketbook which contained $38, which he believes was stolen from his pocket.

At Wytheville yesterday the session of the convention of the Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was taken up in hearing reports read from the various chapters.

Mrs. Sarah Wroten, wife of ex-Councilman George W. Wroten, died at her home in Fredericksburg yesterday from the effects of a stroke of paralysis which she suffered Sunday. She was eighty-two years old, and is survived by three sons and three daughters.

The stockholders of the Norfolk and Western Railway Company held their annual meeting at Roanoke yesterday and voted to issue $34,000,000 common stock, to be devoted to carrying out plans for improvement and equipment. All the directors and officials were re-elected.

Mr. Walter C. Carter, son of Mr. Thomas J. Carter, and Miss Mary E. Fouché, eldest daughter of Mr. George W. Fouché, of Ryan, Loudoun county, were married on Wednesday at the bride's home. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Frank P. Berkley, pastor of the Leesburg Baptist Church.

The recent bond sale of reservoir bonds by the town of Warrenton failed to elicit bids at 4 per cent for the entire issue, and the rates have now been raised to 4½ per cent. Sealed proposals will be received by A. R. Bartenstein, chairman of the finance committee, until 12 o'clock noon, October 20. Work on the new reservoir is progressing rapidly.

Walter Jones, the negro who attempted a criminal assault on Mrs. Lucy Blanks, a middle-aged married woman, in the suburbs of Lynchburg on September 17, almost under the glare of an electric light, was tried in the Corporation Court last yesterday afternoon and found guilty. The jury fixed his punishment at twenty years in the penitentiary.

The council of Macassas has let the contract for the putting in of an electric plant to the J. M. C. Lucas Company, of Baltimore. No satisfactory bid was received on the waterworks and street improvements, and the committee have the matter in charge was directed to readvertise for bids on this work. The bid of the Lucas Company on the light plant was $7,557.

Bank burglars made an unsuccessful attempt about 2 o'clock yesterday morning to rob the People's Bank at Mount Jackson. They succeeded in blowing off two doors of the vault, but after a failure to break the door which secured the cash they were frightened away. The interior of the building was badly damaged by the explosion, which aroused many residents. President Triplett, of the Mount Jackson National Bank, who rooms across the street, exchanged shots with one of the watchers, but neither was hit. Another citizen had his gun leveled at one of the men, but was afraid to shoot. There were five robbers, and they left town southward on the Valley turnpike.

Appointments.

Mr. Richard H. Tebb, a well-known lawyer of the Leesburg bar, and formerly judge of the county court of Loudoun, has been appointed examiner of records for the Twenty-sixth judicial circuit, composed of the counties of Loudoun, Fauquier, and Rappahannock. The appointment was made by Judge E. S. Tigner of the Circuit.

The telegraph boys of Wall Street, New York, who went on a strike yesterday, have returned to work. They gained some minor concessions for better pay for straight away work.

Ex-President Cleveland on the Situation.

Ex-President Grover Cleveland says the present political situation is "an afflictive one." He declares Wm. R. Hearst's nomination for Governor of New York was a calamity for the democratic party, and asserts that Hearst does not represent the principles of democracy. The only living former president also avows his belief that a Hearst victory in New York would not result in making Hearst a formidable candidate for the presidency, and concludes that the emergency must be met by every man voting according to his own conscience.

Mr. Cleveland's statements were made in an interview at his home in Princeton, N. J., where he was requested to give an expression of his opinion on the campaign in New York.

"Every voter of the State must settle with his own conscience in determining his action in this emergency," said Mr. Cleveland; "but I cannot but regard the democratic situation presented to my old associates in New York as an afflictive one."

"It has been suggested in this campaign that supporting the party nominee is not supporting democracy," he was told. "Will you state whether, in your opinion, Mr. Hearst is a democrat?" "I certainly never dreamed that he represented the principles of democracy as I understood them," was the reply. He declined to say whether, if a citizen of New York, he would support Hearst or Hughes. Mr. Cleveland said he agreed with Mr. Hughes as to the chief issue, adding:

"I think the question was stated very concisely by Mr. Hughes in his speech at Lyons, when he said an attempt is being made to marshal the forces of discontent in an appeal to passion, not reason."

"What would be the greatest danger should Mr. Hearst be elected Governor? Do you believe the presidency would be menaced?"

"Certainly not: the people would have him two years and be through with him. Do I think his election would be a calamity? Why, the whole situation is an absurdity. His nomination alone was a calamity to the democratic party. It placed thousands of good men who believe in democratic principles and who rebel against voting for a republican in a terrible situation."

Tammany Organ Bolts Hearst.

Denouncing W. R. Hearst as a traitor to democracy, the Tammany Times, the official organ of Tammany Hall, New York, for the past 14 years, yesterday bolted his nomination.

The announcement on the part of the weekly journal which depends upon the support of the rank and file of Tammany for its existence accentuated the defection of the democratic voters in New York. In a statement which is to appear in its next issue the Tammany Times will say:

"We are asked to endorse and give support to candidates who represent a party organized to so divide democracy as to insure either the acceptance of another party's candidates or compel democracy's defeat."

"And all this for the advancement of a deceiver's ambition at the expense of honor and good name of the great party of the people. In this crisis we decline to follow where a traitor leads."

"We have combated every enemy outside the party. We now oppose the enemies within, feeling that no right-thinking democrat can give aid or encouragement to any candidate who was a municipal ownership man last week, the independent of all parties yesterday, the seker after democratic support at Buffalo, and the denouncer of Tammany, whose nominating power he so eagerly sought and bought by secret bargains made without regard to anybody's interests but his own."

"Real democrats have but a single remedy—vote for true democratic candidates for other offices, but where this is impossible, as for Governor, vote for Charles E. Hughes."

The Jamestown Monument Bids.

Bids were opened in the office of the supervising architect of the Treasury in Washington yesterday for the erection of the monument for which Congress has appropriated $50,000 to mark the site of the landing of the first settlers at Jamestown. The monument is to be 100 feet high on a pedestal about 100 feet square. The shaft will be between 80 and 40 feet square at the base, tapering like the Washington Monument to a smaller dimension at the top. There were only two bidders—the Norcross Bros. Company and the Harrison Granite Company. The bids ranged from about $70,000 to $95,000 for a granite monument, while one bid for a marble monument was for $99,000. The lowest bid was that of Norcross Bros. Company, to erect the monument of mass granite, a light gray stone, for $70,100.

All these bids are so far in excess of the appropriation available for the work, Supervising Architect J. Knox Taylor will revise the plans of the monument with a view to reducing the specifications for ornamentation and approach so that one or the other of the two firms will undertake the work for $50,000. It is probable that the monument will be built of granite. The Washington Monument, as is well known, is of white marble, but this material is so much more expensive than granite and there is so little money available that granite must be chosen.

Letter to Herbert Bryant.

Alexandria, Virginia.
Dear Sir: A man fed his hens half meal and half sawdust; he thought they wouldn't know the difference. He concluded they did when the eggs hatched woodpeckers. Another man painted his house with a paint that was made of half paint-substitutes. He didn't know the difference—not till he paid the painter.

He had 20 dollars' wages to pay for, 20 instead of 10. Got fooled $12.50 on the point.
He had 20 dollars' wages to pay for, 20 instead of 10. Got fooled $30 in wages.
He gave poor job besides. He paid too much for his eggs, and they hatched woodpeckers.

Yours truly,
F. W. DEVOE & Co.

Today's Telegraphic News.

New York Politics.
New York, Oct. 12.—With one exception the candidates of the judiciary nominators are today the candidates of the republican party for the judicial positions to be filled in the coming election. With Judge Otto Rosaksky substituted for Justice Wm. E. Wyatt, the nominator's ticket was accepted without question by the republican county convention last night.

Chairman Parsons won the place on the ticket for Judge Rosaksky. Incidentally Mr. Parsons proved his right to be known as the new boss of New York county republicans. There were some objections to accepting the nominator's candidates expressed by the delegates of the convention. Passing around the word that President Roosevelt wanted them named quelled any opposition.

President Roosevelt had endorsed the entire ticket, but Mr. Parsons set out to have Wyatt shelved in preference for Rosaksky and he succeeded. There is a possibility that opposition to the Tammany judiciary ticket may yet come from the independence league. Mr. Hearst yesterday expressed half-hearted approval of the ticket. Some of the league leaders are open in condemning the compromise ticket and are talking of having a ticket of their own put in the field. If this is attempted it is likely Tammany will withdraw Justice Seabury, John Ford and other independent leaguers from its ticket. Hearst and Murphy are both busy trying to placate followers who are dissatisfied with the judiciary ticket, but it remains to be seen whether they will succeed.

Elmira, N. Y., Oct. 12.—Wm. R. Hearst's letter of acceptance of his nomination by the Buffalo convention will be delivered late today to democratic State chairman Wm. J. Connors in New York. The letter, it is understood, will discuss Mr. Hearst's attitude toward the Buffalo platform and will be the candidate's last word in declaring his freedom of all bosses, and defining his policies.

In one sense, Mr. Hearst's letter of acceptance will form a personal platform. By the expressions in this letter he expects to make clear just how he stands with reference to the platform of the two—democratic and independence league—conventions which nominated him.

Pope's Condition Grave.

London, Oct. 12.—It is reported here late this evening that the Pope's condition has again become very grave.

Berlin, Oct. 12.—Clericals here are greatly worried over the reports received today to the effect that Pope Pius X. is again in a precarious condition. The pontiff's health has been a constant source of worry, but the fears of churchmen have been increased by today's news. Pius is now said to be suffering from a combination of maladies. He is said to be suffering from indigestion and frequently falls asleep during conversations. At present he is refusing to obey the instructions of his physicians, thus diminishing his chances of improvement.

Pope Pius X. has been in poor health almost from the time he ascended the papal throne. He is the victim of chronic heart trouble and to add to this he has been attacked by heart failure and collapsed temporarily.

Dr. Lapponi, the Vatican physician, in whom Pius X. has the greatest confidence, was recently stricken with a disease which has been diagnosed cancer. Upon learning this the Pope is reported to have exclaimed that then he could not hope to live long.

American vs. European Capitalists.

Constantinople, Oct. 12.—Turkey promises soon to witness a fierce struggle between American and European capitalists. Americans, who have been practically barred from Turkey by their European competitors in the past, are now making preparations to break into the field.

Negotiations are now in progress with the Sultan looking to Americans securing concessions. Ambassador Leishman has been interested in the project. The tobacco monopoly will be the first object of American attack. Germans and Frenchmen now control this and the Sultan receives from them fifteen per cent dividend. Americans who are bidding for the monopoly have offered the Sultan 30 per cent dividend if they are given a twenty-five year contract and offer to guarantee that the ruler will receive a minimum return of 520,000 pounds.

Since this offer was made by Americans the present holders of the monopoly have made an offer of 80 per cent to the Sultan for a fifty year contract. He has refused to listen to this offer, however.

Consumptive Dies in Tent.

Dunbar, Pa., Oct. 12.—At a lonely spot on the slopes of Chestnut Ridge, William Weaver, of Philadelphia, a consumptive, died Wednesday night. Weaver left Philadelphia about two months ago, seeking a cure for consumption, and thought open-air life in the mountains would benefit him. He secured a camping outfit and located near here on the Anderson farm Wednesday night. He retired early, and left word at the Anderson home not to call him early. About noon yesterday Anderson visited the tent and found Weaver dead. Friends in Philadelphia have been communicated with, and the body will be shipped home when relatives arrive.

The World's Baseball Championship.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—With two games out of the three played to their credit, the Sox will clash with the Cubs on their own south side grounds this afternoon. Today's game will be the fourth of the seven battles to be fought for the world's championship. Altrick is picked to pitch for the Sox and Brown for the Cubs. The latter will make a desperate attempt to tie the games. This afternoon's weather promises to be slightly warmer than that of yesterday. The Sox are now a slight favorite in the betting.

Agian in Eruption.

Basce, Terre, Guadeloupe, Oct. 12.—Mount Pelee, which wiped out the town of St. Pierre, Martinique, in May 1902, is in eruption. Ashes from the volcano were scattered today over the southern coast of Guadeloupe. It is not believed the eruption threatens damage to the islands. There are no signs of activity from the Soufriere volcano on this island.

Many a man of humane impulses, who would not willingly harm a kitten, is guilty of cruelty where his own stomach is concerned. Overdriven overworked, when what he needs is something to digest, he eats the food and helps the stomach to recuperate. Something like Kodol For Dyspepsia that is sold by W. F. Execution of a Murderer.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Daniel Francis, colored, was hanged in the Cook county jail at 11 o'clock today. The negro died in religious fervor, thanking God that he was a soldier for Christ. Before he was placed on the scaffold he shouted that no one was so fortunate as he, for he was going to meet his Saviour, while all his hearers would be compelled to remain behind. The negro's neck was broken by the fall.

Francis, on Oct. 28, 1905, shot and killed his wife and Mrs. Dora Scroggs, partners in a drapery and dye establishment at 4440 Cottage Grove avenue, and also injured his eight-month-old son. Francis had been drinking heavily and was separated from his wife several weeks before the tragedy. On the afternoon of the crime he went to the little store and demanded that his wife return home with him. She refused and Francis then shot her several times. The woman fell to the sidewalk fatally injured. Mrs. Scroggs ran screaming to the street. Francis followed her. "You told my wife not to live with me," said Francis, who then shot the woman through the heart. Francis was pursued by a crowd and captured. An attempt to lynch him was frustrated.

The Trial of Dr. Brouwer.

Toms River, N. J., Oct. 12.—That much ground was lost yesterday by the prosecution in the trial of Dr. Frank Brouwer for murder of his wife was the consensus of impartial opinion when the hearing was resumed today. Miss Elizabeth Hyer, Mrs. Brouwer's sister, who had been counted on as a star witness for the prosecution, was a disappointment when she took the stand yesterday. In her direct testimony she clearly showed that she was largely actuated by personal ill feeling against Brouwer. Her testimony resolved itself largely into the expression of her own opinions. She was not even cross-examined. That Brouwer and his wife frequently quarreled was established by several witnesses. It was also shown that he lived beyond his means, had resorted to his wife's money to help him out of crises, and had secured endorsements of notes from Mrs. Brouwer's father. One bit of evidence was to the effect that while his wife was in her last illness Brouwer paid a visit to a young woman in a hospital and carried flowers to her. How much Brouwer profited in a financial way from his wife's estate was also shown as a part of the motive which the prosecution is trying to establish.

Plead Not Guilty.

New York, Oct. 12.—On behalf of the New York Central Railroad and the Western Transit Company, a lake branch of the Central, Albert H. Harris's counsel today entered a plea of not guilty to the charge of granting rebates to the American Sugar Refining Company before Judge Thomas in the United States Circuit Court, with leave to withdraw and enter a demurrer. A like plea was entered by Howard S. Gausz for Edwin J. Gudlow, Edgar E. Armed, and Edwin Earle, of Detroit, Mich., accused of accepting rebates from the Central on sugar.

Court Designates Democratic Papers.

New York, Oct. 12.—The appellate Division of the Supreme Court has decided that the New York World, Times, Sun and Staats Zeitung, claiming to be democratic papers and legally entitled to print at the State's expense, as democratic papers, information concerning the places of registration and the polling booths, were not democratic papers. The only papers designated by the Court as democratic papers were the American, Morning Telegraph, Daily News and Das Morgen Journal.

No Tidings of Silveira.

New York, Oct. 12.—With another day of fruitless search for Manuel Silveira, the defaulting Havana banker, whose departure from Cuba with $1,000,000 in gold for parts unknown wrecked the banking house of Ceballos and Company of this city, having passed the hopes of those most anxious to locate the missing banker are waning. The impression is growing that Silveira will be able to reach some ports in his flight where he may remain safely and enjoy the money he took with him.

Poisoned by Milk.

Findlay, O., Oct. 12.—Fourteen children, inmates of the county orphan home, were made seriously ill from drinking milk last night. Two of the children are lying in the point of death, and several babies are in a serious condition, but they may recover. Officers of the home are making an investigation of the milk. They are unable to trace the poison to any other article of food.

Attempted Suicide.

Worcester, Mass., Oct. 12.—Harry Wood, for whom a man hunt was pursued all last night in the belief that he was responsible for the murder of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Ira E. Wood, in cold blood, while she was sitting in his home at Baldwinsville, was found this morning by searchers with his throat cut. Wood's condition is so grave that it is impossible to get any statement from him.
